

In Bookstores May 2010

This book was created using women's voices to help other women navigate a bright career and future and to assist every woman in making the necessary "power" choices everyday – at home or on the job.

"Mary's focus in this book on empowerment and parlaying individual uniqueness to create a career and life path fills a great need for women of all ages, but especially women who are trying to make up their minds about career opportunities, education, marriage, kids and overall direction in life. Many of these women are craving a strong mentor who has actually done it all. Mary has, and her reactions to situations and people are honest and immediate, never planned or contrived.

Mary has a real understanding of what it takes for women to get to power. She naturally thinks about how to bolster up someone's power, their standing and confidence in a significant way that is never arrogant or egotistical – that keeps them grounded in their own strength and their own possibilities.

This book will serve as a valuable tool in your arsenal of personal and career preparation and provides real life anecdotes and professional advice to help you progress and prioritize. "

Myrtle Potter

President and CEO of Myrtle Potter and Company and Former President and COO, Genentech

Foreword by Myrtle Potter of Myrtle Potter and Company and Former President and COO of Genentech

The Missing

Mentor

Women Advising Women on Power,
Progress and Priorities

Mary E. Stutts

Household
Publishing

For Advanced Copies visit us at www.themissingmentor.com